The ResQ Charitable Trust is an animal welfare organisation that rescues, immunises and facilitates adoption of stray dogs and cats. Led by a core team of 20 members, ResQ provides medical treatment, runs a full-fledged centre for hurt and sick animals and conducts education awareness programmes in schools and colleges. ResQ has impacted the lives of over 2,700 dogs over the last three years with its rescue programme and found homes for over 800 homeless dogs and cats.

Citizens of Pune can ensure that the animals living on the streets are healthy and vaccinated. One can support ResQ by volunteering for rescues, at the kennel and events. ResQ's new-use-for-old-news campaign requests citizens to donate their old newspapers every month to ResQ, which the organisation sells and generates funds. Their heads-up-for-tales' initiative in some restaurants has information on stray dogs at each table and customers can choose to donate Rs10 to ResQ through their bills.
